Resolution Writing Guide: SOCHUM

Role of Non-Governmental Organizations, Foreign Aid and Local Institutions

This guide gives you the opening words that start every clause of a resolution, and it shows one example from this committee's sample resolution. A resolution is the final product of the committee, so clear clauses help your ideas get votes. Read the example first, then practise writing your own clauses in the boxes at the end.

THE TWO KINDS OF CLAUSES

Preambulatory clauses come first. They say why the committee is acting. Each one starts with an italic opening phrase and ends with a comma.

Operative clauses come second. They say what the committee will do. Each one is numbered, starts with a verb, and ends with a semicolon. The last operative clause ends with a period.

WHAT THIS COMMITTEE CAN DO

SOCHUM is a committee of the General Assembly. Its resolutions are recommendations, so your operative clauses should recommend, encourage, call upon and request, not order.

ONE WORKED EXAMPLE

This is the opening line of the resolution: The Social, Humanitarian and Cultural Committee, Every clause after it continues that sentence.

> Reaffirming General Assembly resolution 70/1 (2015), which calls for partnerships with civil society to reach the Sustainable Development Goals, and General Assembly resolutions 69/313 (2015) and 79/323 (2025) on financing for development,

The starter Reaffirming tells the room why the committee cares. The rest of the clause names the fact, rule or earlier decision, and the comma at the end shows that more clauses follow.

> 1. Encourages donors to spread funding across more countries, private foundations and businesses, so that no single donor's decision can close local programs;

The verb Encourages tells the room what the committee will do. The words after it say who acts and what they should do, and the semicolon shows that another operative clause comes next.

YOUR TURN

Write one clause of each kind for your own country. Use a starter from the table, and make sure your operative clause asks for something this committee is allowed to do.

Preambulatory clause (starter, then the reason, then a comma):

_____ _____

_____,

Operative clause (number, verb, then the action, then a semicolon):

1. _____ _____

_____;

The example clauses come from the HMDC sample draft resolution for this committee, which lists its sources in full. Resolutions are written live in committee with your bloc, so use this guide to practise, not to copy.
